2. [REDACTED] J. Sourwine, Chief Counsel, Senate Special Subcommittee on Internal Security, called to request any information he could get on [REDACTED] [REDACTED] had been recommended to Sourwine as a witness. I told Sourwine I would check and be back in touch.

3. [REDACTED] OTR, called to inform me that a contractor bidding on work [REDACTED] who felt he had been insulted has written letters to Senators Harry Byrd (D., Va.) and William Spong (D., Va.) to complain. [REDACTED]

4. [REDACTED] George Murphy, on the staff of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, called and expressed interest and some concern over the article in this morning's Washington Post quoting Secretary Laird as saying, "that the Soviets have tested in the last few weeks a very new and sophisticated weapons system." Murphy was interested in knowing if there was anything significant which had developed since the Director's briefing of the Joint Committee on 20 February. After checking with [REDACTED] OSI, I told Murphy it was difficult for us to comment on Laird's statement, since we did not know precisely what he had in mind, and adding that any changes which had taken place were more a matter of degree than variety. Murphy asked if I would see him on Monday to discuss this further.
